GUADALAJARA

Guadalajara, México – Paramo presents the exhibition Geometry of Space, where a generational crossroads intertwines tradition and innovation. Artists with shared vocation and unique techniques, Federico Silva (1923-2022), Agueda Lozano (1944), and Emanuel Tovar (1974), engage in an exhibition open to the public from November 2023 to April 2024 in Paramo.

GEOMETRY OF SPACE brings together artworks that span the diversity of expressions from the artists themselves, forming a transgenerational narrative that resonates with depth and harmony in coexistence with space. The exhibition promises to be a unique experience, allowing the audience to immerse themselves in the visual and conceptual dialogue among these three generations of Mexican artists.

The selection of artworks covers a wide spectrum of styles, techniques, and approaches within geometry, aiming to highlight the depth of exploration by the three artists. The exhibition's design enhances the visitors experience by inviting visual dialogue through the evolution of forms and the creativity of the artistic field.

In the words of Luis Ignacio Sainz, the author of the exhibition text,

"Three generations of Mexican artists who share the vocation to balance reasons and emotions with a profound knowledge of technique and a willingness to innovate and reframe their processes, share space, showing that three are connecting vessels between their personal plastic vocabularies".

About the artists

Federico Silva is a master at infusing spirit into objects. His work reflects the tradition of technically vigorous pieces with social relevance and artistic harmony. His legacy spans sculpture, painting, and printmaking, making him the most complete and outstanding artist of his generation.

Agueda Lozano is a versatile and passionate artist who challenges boundaries in genres and techniques. Her work in metal, resembling silk, evokes a symbolic and passionate aesthetic that invites contemplation, exploring the modern within the traditional.

Emanuel Tovar, a multidisciplinary alchemist, is a creator of territories. In sculpture, performance, and installation, the artist intervenes in everyday life with quality of philosophical and political expression. He adheres to materials that allow him to decipher the damage of reality.

About Paramo
